FEBRUARY

1972

Dear Friends,

"I'm getting too old for church work" the claimant told me, "it's time the young ones had a chance." Too old? I could only guess at the age - early sixties maybe - certainly no older. (It's alright, before you try putting a name to the person - it's no-one from Milnrow or Littleborough!)

What does one say in these circumstances? For my part, some of the most active Christians in my acquaintance are senior citizens. Maturity, experience, wisdom which comes through the years - all these are proud possessions in life. They are vital for the work of the church also. We say the church is a family. The responsibility of the family is that old and young pull together. It's not a matter of one giving up and the other taking over. Decisions must be taken together, with due regard for everyone on the family. The programme must have something in it for everyone. Johnney, aged 5, doesn't want to go to lecture on Tudor England, and Grandma doesn't fancy the Disco! It stands to reason.

The same thing is important in the Family Church. There will be times when we are more active than others. If health and strength let us down, then we need the comfort and company of friends to care and help. It's to the church's credit if people can say when problems of illness and anxiety occur - I never knew I had so many friends - people have been so kind. That shows that Christianity is a religion of faith and action.

One of the positive points of the eldership which we will be accepting into our system later this year, is its lifelong scope. The eldership accepts a person fully - knowing the possibility of ill-health occurring, or circumstances which alter the time we have at our disposal. To be an active elder, a person will need time and availability, but this isn't the number one criterion. First of all, a person must have a deep and earnest love for Jesus Christ and the Church, a desire to serve fully with mind, soul, heart and strength. Eldership will not cease because of age or ill-health. It sets a new dimension to our thinking and our acceptance of commitment. When we come to the point of electing elders, we hope that many people will give very serious thought to the matter. If the time factor means our re-thinking what we already do in Christ's church, then we may have to think of giving up some item of work, so that we can take up the office of elder, and work in that capacity. Age should not come into it. When the time comes, I hope that we will give much prayer and thought to the matter, so that we may go into the future with enthusiasm and dedication.

Yours sincerely,

Glyn Jenkins

UNITED SERVICE AT CASTLETON

Both our churches are invited to join in this United Missionary Service to be held at Castleton Congregational Church on Sunday evening 13th February at 6.30 pm.

The Rochdale Local Group of Congregational Churches will be meeting together for worship led by the President, Mr. A. Roberts. The address will be given by the Rev. D.K. Pryce (coloured) curate of St. James, Heywood.

There will be an informal hour after the service, during which light refreshments will be served.

JUNIOR CHURCH NEWS - MILNROW

On Monday 3rd January 46 children from the Junior Primary and Beginners Departments, accompanied by the teachers, visited the pantomime "Dick Wittington" at the Oldham Reportory Theatre. The outing proved an enjoyable afternoon and a pleasant change from the usual Christmas Party.

*****

In order to meet the balance of the cost of the children's tickets and transport, a COFFEE EVENING was held on Tuesday the 11th January at 6 Ladyhouse Close, which raised £6.

*****

The Senior Department organised a 'DISCO' evening on Saturday 8th January, to which young people from the churches of the Bury & Rochdale District were invited. This proved a successful venture and raised £5.85.

*****

On Sunday, 9th January, the Senior Department took over the morning service, which was prepared and conducted entirely by themselves. The theme was 'Love'. A change of style but sincerely presented.

URGENTLY REQUIRED - FOR STUFFING!

Ladies! please don't throw your old nylons away! Mrs. Starkie and her team of helpers are busy with handicrafts again, but are desperately short of stuffing for toys, soft furnishings, etc. Mrs. Starkie would be pleased to receive any used clean nylons as soon as possible.

Thank you!

THESE YOU HAVE LOVED

Mrs. Pauline Royle is making a second attempt to compile a recipe book.

She would like you to let her have your favourite recipes; not so that she can claim them as her own but so that they can be published in a booklet to be sold for church funds.

So jot down all those tried and tested family favourites; "Gwen's Treacle Toffee," "Dorothy Emmott's Famous Date and Walnut" etc. Sweet or savoury, hot or cold, plain or fancy, all are required. So don't be too modest about your cullinery potential; if you are willing to be a sponsored knitter you are self confident enpugh for anything.

GUILD ALL

Fashionable Ladies. The fashion display on the 18th January was well supported and raised as many pounds as days in the year (so far.)

Thanks to all concerned.

Official Ladies. On 4th January 28 ladies attended the Annual General Meeting and re-elected the previous committee.

Mixed Up Ladies

On Tuesday 8th February

at 7.30 pm.

a COFFEE EVENING will be held at which there will be

AN ELECTRIC FOOD MIXER DEMONSTRATION

LITTLEBOROUGH NEWS

ONE MAN'S FAITH

It was unfortunate that the cold wet evening had an adverse effect on attendance at the January film evening, for "The Singapore Story" was well worth seeing.

The film tells the true story of one man's courage in determining to hold onto his faith and trust in God at a time when he had little else left. It is a war story which begins on the 15th February 1942.

A RIGHT PANTOMIME

Like the scholars of St. Stephen's those of Littleborough went to see the pantomime at Oldham Rep. The party was 50 children strong and 10 adults exausted, and the pantomime in question "Dick Wittington" - the true story of a get-rich-quick animal lover who heard a ringing in his ears. For the record  $\frac{5}{8}$  cwt of ice cream was cleared,  $\frac{1}{8}$  mile of lolly sticks scattered, enough sweet paper screwed up to paper Mumps Bridge and a total of  $183\frac{1}{4}$  miles was travelled in trips to the toilet. Those adults who failed to take their ear plugs can be identified by the ice packs on their heads.

A TYPIST PRAYS

I see a lot of words, in a week,
go over the roller, and disappear.....
too many words, and too little said.

Funny, some words I almost never see,
like 'love' and 'care' and 'joy' and 'beauty.'

I see a lot of words, in a year,
till words are spoiled, and I am like part of my machine.

There is a real pleasure in making a neat job,
with decent margins, and even type, and a nice lay-out;

But if I break a fingernail, or have to catch the shops on the way home, or get another memo from the 'mumbler' in the top office, it can seem pointless.

Help me to pray with warm and living words,
Like 'love' and 'care' and 'joy' and 'beauty.'
and then to find Christ's work in mine.

Amen.

FACING DECISION

Jesus looked steadily at him and loved him,
and he said, "There is one thing you lack.
Go and sell everything you own and give the money to the poor, and you will have treasure in heaven; then come, follow me."

(Mark 10: 21. J.B.)

A PRAYER

Not till a big decision loomed did I realise that choosing is what all my life must be,
and always has been.

Help me, O God, to know that all deciding is about one decision, and to make my choice for you.
